

tapping screw in order to make the system a unique block.

- The airtight sealing of the nipples is made by a junction provided with a fiberglass gasket that covers both the junction and the part of the pipe where there are the blocking screws; no need to use silicone (see hereunder drawing).

